June . . . 1—Commencement program brings caps, gowns, and diplomas for the seniors . . . Best wishes are given, and all depart — the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors to return for a command performance next year—the seniors, to be spectators.

A superintendent of schools today must be an administrator, a business executive, a counselor for the members of the staff, and an advisor for the children and parents of a community. Mr. Byron H. Carmean, superintendent of Shelby Schools, serves well in all these capacities.

It is a pleasure to dedicate this 1950 edition of the SCARLET S to Mr. Carmean.

SENIORS

1946—We were one hundred and forty-seven well-scrubbed bewildered cherubs embarking upon a high school career—eager to fill our little heads with knowledge. Who will forget Mr. Wilkin's civics (?) classes? At last we were included in the high school dances.

1947—Now we were wise sophomores mainly concerned with bugs and Punic Wars and having serious difficulty with theorems. In December we cut off our pigtails, covered our ankles, and turned blue under the pressure of neckties at our first formal, the Snowball. We elected our class officers: Jim Smith, our small but mighty president; Jim Hassler, vice president; and Joan Payne, secretary-treasurer. We took the USS Dreamboat to the Sophomore party and there said "Farewell to the Sophomore class."

1948—We started this year by electing our class officers. Jim Smith again served as president, Bill Broderick was vice president, and Joan Payne, secretary-treasurer. After choosing our class rings we sponsored the initial dance of the season, "The Autumn Fantasy." Hollywood had its greatest competition when the class of "50" presented "The Moon Makes Three." "Anybody want to buy a basketball program?" And then came the big event—the first all-night prom. We turned the gym into an enchanted garden and used "Moon Magic" as the theme. It was a huge success and as the sun came up we all staggered home full of tomato juice and scrambled eggs.

1949—At long last we are seniors. Most of our senior year has been taken up with Canasta, reading Hamlet and Macbeth, going steady, winning the football championship, and our frantic efforts toward getting into college without working too hard on our senior studies. "Anybody want to buy a hot (?) dog?" We leave the graduating class reminiscing about the smiles, tears, laughs, sorrows, disappointments, and successes of an eventful twelve years.

A maiden who is richly blessed, with lots of friends and happiness.

Charles Pugh
Men of few words are the best men.

Virginia Rapp
Agreed to differ.

Alan Richards
Noble by birth, nobler by deed.

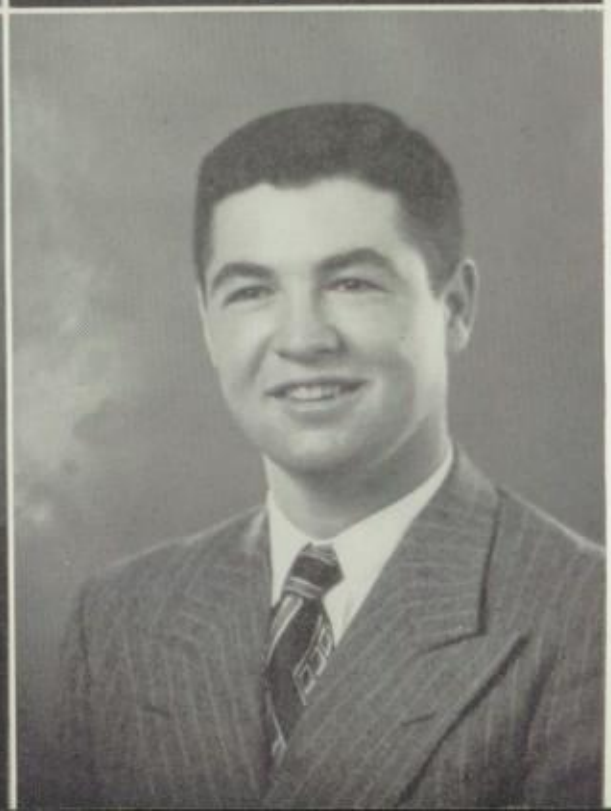
Ruth Rietschlin
Some are sweet, some are fair,
But few with Ruth can compare.

Jean Riley
"Giggle, Jeanie, giggle."

John Scherer
Never in a hurry, but he always gets there.

Reed Schreck
A man of few words, but a doer of great things.

Glenn Shade
Doing nothing with a good deal of skill.



Delores Sheridan
Life is short and so am I.

Francis Shuler
Silence is more eloquent than words.

George Shuler
Our future mechanical wizard.

Carl Sifferlin
Working's all right, but I do love to play.

James Smith
We are content to follow where you lead.

Mary Rose Spangler
She's so very pretty and pert,
Your attention she'll divert.

Phyllis Stewart
Eyes of blue, hair of gold;
She's a maiden never bold.

Mary Stine
She and gloom are no relation.

Edward Stiving
He is a willing worker.

Kenneth Sutter
Big things come in little packages—Remember the atom!

Superintendent Of Schools

Mr. Byron H. Carmean, A.B., M.A.

Mr. Carmean, who has been our friend and superintendent for the past four years, has helped us and guided us in our high school problems. He has devoted his time to the betterment of Shelby High School and Shelby Schools and the pupils of this city and community. Prior to being named superintendent of schools, Mr. Carmean was high school principal.

Mrs. Margaret Laws

Secretary to the Superintendent of Schools.

She has been an extraordinary friend and a helpful secretary. For her cheerful smiles she is remembered.

Principal Of Shelby High

Mr. J. E. McCollough,

B.S. in Ed., M.A.

Mr. McCollough has been our thoughtful and capable counselor for the past four years. He has always worked faithfully at his assigned task to make our school one of the best in the state. He does not mind telling everyone that he thinks that this school is one of the best. We have been trying at times, but he has been helpful and patient in directing us through our difficulties.

Miss Ruth Lux

Secretary to the Principal of the High School.

Patience is a good word to characterize Miss Lux. She is one that has had to listen to our many questions and requests. She has been pleasant to all of us and willing to serve whenever she could.

Auburn Elementary School

The first building completed under the school bond issue which the voters authorized in November, 1946, was the Auburn Elementary School located on Auburn Avenue, Shelby. The modern school structure was first used by the pupils on Friday, January 13, 1950. It was a grand moving day for some two or three hundred elementary students.

This building has ten large class rooms, a library, a cafeteria, and a practical arts or art room. The principal's offices are large and there is a room for the school nurse when she visits the Auburn School. A public address system was installed and this is used by the principal to bring important messages to the teachers and pupils in the building.

A combination gymnasium and auditorium will be erected to the north and connected to the building. This was authorized by the Shelby voters at the November election in 1949.

Mr. R. D. McCollough is the principal of Auburn School and the following teachers were assigned to this building: Miss Leah Summer and Miss Rebecca Bond, first grade; Miss Doris Brown and Miss Antonia Johnston, second grade; Miss Margaret Miller and Miss Ruby Smith, third grade; Mrs. Margaret Davis and Miss Martha Madory, fourth grade; Mrs. Marjorie Lybarger, fifth grade; and Mrs. Norma Anderson, sixth grade. Mr. Charles C. Miller is the custodian; Mrs. Nellie Tindale, is the cafeteria manager and Mrs. Laser is her assistant.

National Thespian Society

After the groans and the pains of leaving an adventurous summer to return to school, Thespian Troupe 939 began its second year at Shelby High under the supervision of Miss Ruth Kellermyer. We started off the year by electing our executive staff, giving Jim Smith the president's gavel. Our president was ably assisted by Jack Dunathan as vice-president, JoAnn Henson as secretary, Mary Rose Spangler as treasurer, and Lois Kime as clerk. With a mighty roar we took over the scout house in mid-December for our annual Christmas party, and stuffed ourselves with sandwiches, cokes, and potato chips in a pre-holiday celebration. Soon after our return from the Christmas holidays we undertook the initiation of students who had earned their membership during the first semester. Jack Dunathan's home was the scene of this gala affair. Our next undertaking was a dance which we called the "Backstage Frolic". Students and teachers danced to the music of Dick Randall's Band and wondered at the possibility of bursting three hundred balloons. In February we entertained the faculty with an Apple Party in which we honored our teachers for their help given us during the year. The first mystery that has been presented for several years went down in history on March 8th and 9th, as the Thespians' sponsored "Double Door", the annual all school play. We climaxed the year by journeying to Cleveland for two very entertaining plays. Parties, dances, plays, trips to Cleveland, and lots of hard work made up the activities of THE NATIONAL THESPIAN SOCIETY.

An organization well worthy of praise is the Student Council. Guided by Mrs. Yetzer, the Council is composed of one representative from each of the homerooms and the officers of the junior and senior classes.

The Council's many activities include the planning of the Homecoming activities, sponsoring auditorium programs, supervising the school elections, sending flowers at the time of bereavement, and sponsoring the Armistice Day and Recognition Day programs.

These activities are all financed by the advertising and selling of football programs.

The officers elected to serve this year were: Dick Utz, president; Beverly Jewell, vice-president; Margaret Ensman, secretary; Dave Gump, treasurer.

BOTTOM PICTURE: Scene from three-act mystery play, DOUBLE DOOR.

The all-school play given this year was a mystery entitled, DOUBLE DOOR. Miss Kellermeyer was director and was in charge of preparing the outstanding set used for the play. Members of the cast were: James Smith, Marianne Patrick, William Fath, Roger Pugh, Jeanine Thompson, Richard Snider, Thomas Snively, Bonnie Crain, Margaret Garvin, Jack Dunathan, Sandra Graham, and Jerry Dennis.

Others who aided in the construction of the set were: Lois Kime, Glenn Bendle, William Apger, Richard Friebel, Don Hoak, Keith Garrett.

Edwin Lewis had charge of the advertising for the play.

Miss Luella Kuhn had charge of the costumes.

The members of the Senior Class presented the three-act play, ONE FOOT IN HEAVEN, in April. This book was at press at that time and it was impossible to present scenes from the play.

JACOB COMES HOME, a one-act play, was used by the speech department in the Bowling Green State University play contest. The members of this cast included: Margaret Garvin, Richard Snider, Betty Reau, William Fath, and Bonnie Crain. It was directed by Miss Ruth Kellermeyer.

El Circulo Espanol

It was a cool September evening when our Junior members were greeted by cooked macaroni and the Spanish Club's old faithful, "Elmer", at the informal initiation. The Juniors unsuccessfully attempted to sing "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles", while cleaning the sidewalks in front of Steve's with toothbrushes. This was followed by a hurried trip to the Water Works where refreshments were served consisting of dog biscuits and spiked cider. The third annual Christmas formal was held on the evening of December twentieth. We danced to the music of Speros Karos and his orchestra, surrounded by a color scheme of blue and silver. The orchestra stand was in the form of a sleigh with reindeer in the background. Refreshments were served in the game room by a group of eighth grade girls. The room was gaily decorated with frosted windows and electric candles. The remainder of the year was spent in Christmas caroling, a Halloween party at Dave Gump's home, a trip to the roller skating rink and a hay ride to Kime's cottage.

Choir

With the first few days of school came the hectic try-outs for Senior Choir. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors turned out by the score to fill the vacant choir seats. A few days later Mr. Braden announced one of the smallest choirs in Shelby's history, as forty students were selected. The choir was soon labeled, "One of the best", as it presented its first program of the year on Armistice Day. The strains of Christmas music echoed through the high school halls as the choir worked on the annual Christmas program. Most enjoyed by the choir and the listeners, were a jazz version of "Jingle Bells" and the familiar "T'was the Night Before Christmas".

After the Christmas vacation they settled back to work on a combination band and choir concert. The efforts of this group were well spent and a very good program greeted a packed auditorium. Next on the choir's schedule was the festival, held this year at Willard. Shelby choir members spent a pleasant time away from classes as they packed themselves into two buses and upon arrival practiced with the choirs of other schools in this vicinity. In early February they voted to go to the contest in Bascom. The year was climaxed with the annual spring concert, and all were sorry to see the last concert of an enjoyable year come to an end.

Future Homemakers Of America

The Future Homemakers of America got into the swing of things last September by electing officers. Those elected were Doris Baird, president; Virginia Rapp, vice-president; Jean Riley, secretary; Beverly Kidwell, treasurer; Henrietta Peterson, historian; Mary Alice Brown, parliamentarian; and Jean Pry, reporter. Mrs. Virgil Baird and Mrs. Ralph Riley were appointed as club mothers. Miss Kuhn is club advisor and Miss Stroup is an honorary member. The club sponsored a bake sale and sold delicious homemade candy at Christmas time. There were various speakers and demonstrations for the benefit of the club during the year. The formal initiation ceremony was a highlight of the winter season. At this time, Junior Homemaker's Degrees were conferred to the members of the club who have met the state F. H. A. requirements. Social activities included a county rally, a Backwards Party, a Christmas Grab Bag Party, and a picnic at the end of the year. The F.H.A. again sponsored the annual "Queen of Heart's" Dance and crowned Joan Swartz as queen. The club was honored to have Virginia Rapp chosen as a state officer. As a state officer she will represent the Shelby Chapter at the national meeting in Kansas during the early part of the summer.

Secretaries

Practical experience in secretarial work is one of the objectives of the course offered here at Shelby for girls who are interested in becoming secretaries in local offices. Senior girls are selected to aid in the various departments of the school—athletics, music, guidance, and attendance. Many letters are dictated and typed, many assignments are completed—all this done by senior girls who are appointed by teachers to aid them in the completion of some of the above tasks. Attendance cards and records have been maintained accurately and attendance reports for both morning and afternoon sessions throughout the school year have been duplicated by a corps of girls who are working for Mr. Archdeacon in the attendance office.

Two seniors have been assigned to the athletics department and have completed work for Mr. Markin, faculty business manager for athletics.

Office work in the guidance department has been done by three girls who have worked for Mr. Wendland.

Betty Pagel was assigned to the music department and she worked for Mr. Braden and Mr. Somerville. She was not present when the above picture was taken.

Buckeye Boys' And Girls' State

The 13th Buckeye Boys' State was held on the grounds of Ohio Wesleyan University. The population of this imaginary state was 870 boys —politicians, bankers, vendors, lawyers, and nearly every other walk of life was represented on the campus.

From the moment a boy arrived until the day he left, a highly organized program was in store for him. This program did not just include the government aspect, but had competitive athletics scheduled, entertainment arranged for leisure time, and also men such as the President of O.W.U. and high state officials were selected to speak to the citizens of Boys' State.

The state was divided into three counties, and the counties into cities. The six boys that represented Shelby High School had special duties to perform in their respective counties and cities. In the State Legislature, James Smith and John Scherer were elected State Representatives. For being County Auditor in the winning county, James Hassler received a small trophy for the efforts he put forth. Jerry Dennis was elected Mayor of his city, Charles Knapp held the office of president of the city council and also was a secret agent, and Richard Snider served on the city council and also was Director of Public Service.

Capital University in Columbus found 422 ambitious young women on the campus. These eager girls were the citizens of Girls' State. This organization functioned similarly to Boys' State. The officials were elected, as in Boys' State, through the campaign efforts of the individual.

Beverly Jewell and Margaret Garvin brought back many memories and experiences to Shelby High School. Beverly held the office of a State Representative, while Margaret served as Superintendent of Public Education, Reporter, and as Secretary to the Mayor.

Drum Major And Majorettes

Dill pickles, cider, and glazed doughnuts! Sounds like a queer combination? Some people may think so, but the majorettes of Shelby High thrive on it. Every Thursday after night band practices "Firey" Irey, "Sly" Bly, "Shmoe" Reau, and "Starvin" Garvin piled in the car and headed for a feast loaded with jokes and giggles. But you mustn't think that being a majorette is all that easy. The 1949-50 majorettes made all their own costumes (with the exception of the skeleton suits) and made up all their own dances with no help from outsiders. It takes a lot of work to make a twirling routine look as smooth as it does on Friday nights. The girls started working last July on their routines for marching season. Mr. Somerville and Mr. Braden helped greatly in giving constructive criticism and clearly showing which spots needed improving with the result that this year's majorettes and major were reportedly the best in the history of SHS.

Jim Barkdull worked on his own routines and put the band through its paces with the assurance of an expert. The four majorettes and the major went through many roles this year and the fans of SHS saw Dresden dolls, Chinese dances, Indians, Spanish dances and skeletons cavorting around the field. The four girls and James attended the 1949 American Legion Convention in Columbus and Jeanette Bly walked away with the trophy for the best majorette.

Junior Band

The Junior Band opened its first practice sessions with many sour notes and discords. As the season progressed, however, we found these noises turning into music and this group, a well-organized unit. Under the able direction of Mr. Somerville, they learned the fundamentals of band music and marching techniques. Every sixth period proof came from the music room that they were faithfully practicing their selections.

They also received ample practice in marching out on the athletic field. Every reserve football game spectators were given a chance to see the band and they were given the opportunity to prove their "stuff". At the half we saw them strutting up and down the field and heard them playing their tunes.

This group of 7th, 8th, and 9th graders is the beginning of the senior band. After this training period, they probably will become worthy of a post in the senior band group.

Senior Band

Sixty-two students made up the 1949 Whippet marching band, however only fifty-four participated in the various programs. The remainder served as alternates and general helpers. The music for each performance was specially arranged for the band by Mr. Sommerville. At the end of the season, each member had memorized nearly fifty different numbers for the different programs. This year's half time entertainment was undoubtedly the most outstanding presented by any band in the Northern Ohio League. The black-lite scenes were complemented by the art work of Keith Garrett and Miss Kellermeyer and her speech department. Much time was spent in developing the tricky dance steps that thrilled the fans. The band studied movies taken at previous games in search of ways to improve. As a whole, the band spent ninety hours in practice for every ninety minutes on the field.

Senior Band

James Barkdull, head drum major, awed the crowd at the first game with his new, sparkling red and white uniform. He added delight to many of the programs with his twirling specialties. The majorettes, too, strutted high, wide and handsome. They proved they could perform under black-lite very nicely as well as with their batons.

None of the performances would have been complete without the band's M.C., John Purdy. John came thru, rain or cold, to give the spectators many a cheerful earful during the halves of the home games. The physicians of the city, made it possible for them to attend an Ohio State football game. This gave the members an opportunity to view the style and technique of a college band.

Dwight Somerville deserves high praise for the long hours he spent planning and arranging each program. The Jaycees awarded him the Distinguished Service Award in recognition of his fine work with the band.

The N. O. L. Champions

In football activities Shelby really became a stellar attraction. The "stars" seemed to foretell from the first game that this was A SHELBY WHIPPET YEAR. From the very first game to the last, the Whippets played a fast, exciting, convincing, and challenging game to the satisfaction of the many fans who followed the team to all games of the season. The CHAMPS began the season with a non-league opponent — Fostoria and the Whippets enjoyed playing the first game in Fostoria's new stadium. Shelby was upset in the final seconds of this all-time gridiron thriller. In the first league encounter the Willard Railroaders turned the power on the Whippets and trampled them for their only league defeat. The Galion Tigers and the Bucyrus Redmen were run off the field by the decisive scores of 21-0 and 21-6. Ashland—wha' happened? Let's forget it! In the rain the Whippets overtook the Bellevue Redmen and won the third straight league game. Powerful Norwalk could not control the Whippets and Shelby came through with a score of 23 to 6 in a festive Homecoming event. Upper Sandusky's Rams were next on the list as designated by the "stars" to fall. This hard fought game was finally won by Shelby, 20-6, after the Rams threw a scare into the fans as well as the players. To finish one of the most outstanding years in football history for Shelby, the Whippets traveled to the kennels of the Crestline Bulldogs. The Bulldogs never got started and it is rumored that they are still in the "dog house" from their 34-0 walloping. After a period of banqueting and well-wishing, the NOL Champions rested and reflected on the achievements of the past year. Yes—the "stars" were true, and the Whippets gave the Shelby fans a display of high school football which will always be remembered.

Not to be outdone by the football team, the Shelby Whippet basketball team swamped the N.O.L. by gaining a share of the title. The only loss to a league team came early in the season when Bucyrus upset the favored Shelby quintet.

Due to the height, spirit, finesse, and good coaching of the Shelby team, they went on to produce one of the finest records ever maintained by a Shelby team. The regular season ended with thirteen wins against three losses.

In the first game of the year Madison was easily overcome by the powerful Whippets. Meeting on Shelby's home court Willard suffered a 54-51 defeat, while at Willard, Onie's desperation shot gave Shelby a 49-48 victory. On a "cold" night in December, Bucyrus downed the Whippets on the Redmen's floor for the official league game. In the other contest Shelby tripped Bucyrus, 58-41. Mighty Mansifeld was temporarily overcome by the fighting Whippets but a "hot" streak earned them a 50-42 victory to bring back the rivalry of old fame between the schools. A five game winning streak was ended by sharp-shooting Wooster. In league games, Upper Sandusky and Willard bowed to the towering Shelby team. Bellevue, Galion, Norwalk, and Crestline were trounced by the point hungry Whippets to give Shelby a share of the N.O.L. Championship.

In the sixteen games played in the 1949-50 season, Shelby racked up 869 points while holding their opponents to 720 points.

For individual honors, Richard Utz piled up a total of 272 points for an all-time high scoring record. Harold Onie followed close behind with 186 points while Jack Witter had 131. Jerry Wilson 95, Glenn Lybarger with 52, and Lawrence Paine totaled 44 points.

Coach Williams built a team that Shelby can be proud of for many years to come, as this was the first championship in basketball since 1930.

The Seniors on the 1949-1950 basketball squad worked right along with the underclassmen to produce the great team that Shelby had this season. Under the basket, Richard Utz proved a mighty rebound man while the sharpshooting of Harold Onie was a stellar attraction to watch. On defense, never have the Shelby fans witnessed a more aggressive player than Glenn Lybarger. His great work in this field earned him the respect of all he played against. Richard Yohn was always ready to relieve one of the regulars at almost any position on the team.

A committee of faculty members, coaches, and junior class members of the "S" Club select the outstanding senior athlete of the year. The 1950 award was given to Richard Utz. This award is based on not only the athletic abilities of the boy, but also on scholarship, leadership, and sportsmanship.

Utz, outstanding in athletics for four years in Shelby, climaxed his senior year by being placed on the All-Northern Ohio League basketball team. He was also elected to the Second N.O.L. Football Team earlier in the year.

A special award will be given to Utz at the annual Recognition Day activities.

Cheerleaders

Staggering legs, aching backs, rasping voices—these were all a part of the handicaps which a newly elected cheerleading squad had to overcome at the beginning of the football season in 1949. However, under the direction of Miss Fessler, they readily organized themselves into a smooth working unit. Tense and nervous they went out to lead the Whippet fans in cheers at the first game played at Fostoria. Then they discovered that the only remedy for the cries—"Down in front", "We can't hear you", and "Let's have another cartwheel"—was to ignore them. After that first game the duties were easier and at the end of the season the cheerleaders led the parade for a victorious team when the boys came marching home.

Basketball was just as much fun for the cheerleaders and certainly a lot warmer. The full support of the students and a good team for whom to cheer made it easier and more fun. Half-time "tete a tetes" with the cheerleaders from opposing schools helped to promote more friendly relations between the opponents.

Ah yes, the staggering legs, the aching backs, and the rasping voices—all were a part of a cheerleader's work but it was worth it.

Girls Athletic Association

"Oh, my aching muscles." That familiar phrase was as often heard among the girls as it was among the boys. On every Thursday night the Girls' Athletic Association held a meeting. Business was discussed and the girls were given a thorough workout.

The first meeting of the GAA was the traditional weiner roast. The new officers were installed at this festive occasion. Taking the lead as president was Beverly Kidwell, the vice-president's office found Doris Stoffer on the job, the duties of secretary were given to Eileen Workman, and Pat Bell was in charge of the finance program as treasurer. Pat Palmer was elected point chairman with Patty Gross assisting her in volleyball, Junadele Smith in basketball, and Dorothy Anderson in softball.

Throughout the year, teams are picked to participate in interscholastic contests. A new ruling allowing a girl to play eight games of each sport gave the girls a better chance to show their ability. A group of these girls were picked to represent Shelby High School at Play Day held at the Bowling Green University Campus.

Letters and chevrons were awarded to about half of the girls. In order to win their awards, the girls must attend meetings and take an active part in outside activities.

The aim of the GAA is to promote interest in athletics for girls in order to develop both character and bodily strength so that the girls will become better school citizens.

Athletics in Shelby High School have taken such a prominent position in the curriculum that a varsity letter club was officially organized. For the past several years the "S" club had been functioning under no official set of rules or by-laws. A set of by-laws was incorporated and the Varsity "S" Club became an official organization of Shelby High School.

All boys who receive a varsity letter are eligible to become members of this club. Also any boy who serves as cheerleader or as manager of a varsity sport may become a regular member in his senior year.

There were eighteen charter members of the "S" Club with Dick Snider serving as president, Jerry Dennis as vice-president, and Dick Utz was elected secretary-treasurer. Coach William Wilkins helped the club along as faculty advisor.

Twenty new members were initiated into the club in March which made a total membership of thirty-eight. The aims of these thirty-eight athletes are to promote sportsmanship, good fellowship among athletes, and to uphold the standards of the Ohio Athletic Association.

from Bobby Shelby and DONALD DUCK

Internationally known Ambassadors of Good Will, Donald Duck and Bobby Shelby work together carrying the name of our town to every American city, village, and farm . . . and to countless friends in far-away lands. They're mighty busy selling bicycles —but never too busy to remember our friends here at home. We join them in wishing you success and happiness throughout life.
